H.I.Mentors Introduces Web-based Operational Data Analytics for Managing HIM Department and Revenue Cycle Performance

Westchester, IL, (September 25, 2010) -- H.I.Mentors LLC announced the rollout of HIMetrix®, a comprehensive web-based data analytics and consulting solution to assist hospitals in managing Health Information Management (HIM) department and revenue cycle processes while meeting key industry standards. This new solution incorporates customized metrics and reporting that provides CFOs, CIOs, Revenue Cycle and HIM directors with access to a unique narrative and performance dashboards based on HIMentor's business intelligence tool.

“HIMetrix solves the operational dilemma of being able to clearly measure HIM performance against industry-wide best practices,” said Darice Grzybowski, MA, RHIA, FAHIMA, Founder/President, H.I.Mentors, LLC. “Whether you are a regional HIM director with multiple HIM departments requiring customized metrics and reports, or a CFO seeking a better understanding of performance drivers for a more successful operation, HIMetrix provides a consistent, accelerated method for gathering and reporting core operational data.”

HIMetrix provides remote data collection through a professionally designed program of comprehensive online surveys customized around client specified organizational goals. Standard and customized questions and format ensure relevant data collection and consistency. HIMetrix allows hospitals to capture, store and organize data electronically with real-time, 24/7 access via the Internet with minimal onsite consultation costs and no IT intervention required. Armed with accurate and relevant data, a CFO or manager can initiate thoroughly researched decisions that can proactively influence departmental operations and performance.
